AI Strategy & Enterprise Solutions Consultant

One-liner

Yash Bhatt is an AI Strategy & Enterprise Solutions Consultant who helps enterprises turn AI ambition into production systems and CFO-defensible ROI.

Short bio (~60 words)

Yash Bhatt advises enterprises, SaaS companies, and AI startups on AI strategy, analytics, and intelligent automation. Currently a Solutions Consultant at Axion Ray, his career spans consultative research at Google, financial analytics at Oceaneering International and S&P Global, and independent advisory work. His focus: AI adoption that is measurable, governed, and genuinely useful — backed by TCO, NPV, and IRR rigor.

Full bio (~140 words)

Yash Bhatt is an AI Strategy & Enterprise Solutions Consultant based in Bangalore, working globally. Over six-plus years he has moved along one continuous thread: translating complex data into decisions organizations can act on. At S&P Global he delivered client-facing financial research; at Oceaneering International he automated forecasting and reporting, saving $120K annually; at Google he led consultative research that influenced 25 product roadmap and GTM decisions; and at Axion Ray he now leads AI solution consulting across enterprise deals, working hands-on with LLMs, RAG, MCP, and modern BI stacks. Yash speaks and writes on enterprise AI adoption, value engineering, and the gap between pilots and production. He holds a Post Graduate Program in Data Science & Engineering from Great Lakes Institute of Management and a PGDM from NMIMS.
